

"The Teacher Leading Professional Learning Courses facilitated by NNSTOY have been some of the most worthwhile professional learning experiences of my career."

- Christopher Todd
Finalist, 2014 Connecticut
State Teacher of the Year

Course I: Adult Learning & Leadership

Registration details coming soon.
Questions? Contact
Lauren Cantell,
lauren@nnstoy.org

May 11 and 12, 2019
Montana State University

*Includes a certificate of participation for 15 hours
College credits available

Our Teacher Leadership Professional Learning Courses effectively build a teacher's capacity to lead and improve professional practice. NNSTOY is an innovative and trusted source of teacher leadership that improves teaching and learning. Courses are available for every educator level and can be on a flexible schedule.

Teacher leaders are in a unique position to build and strengthen the teaching profession by driving important changes in policy, practice and advocacy. When educators are in a nurturing environment and become part of a collaborative, systemic approach to professional growth, they will achieve more as a collective group than they could on their own, regardless of their school budget.

This course offers research-based advanced learning methods that will help foster collaboration to initiate and sustain change in your school community. Leadership is a crucial role for educators, and this course will help you identify your own leadership goals, share expertise with peers and learn how to address school-based issues and positively impact student performance.

This course will enhance your ability to:

- Understand what it means to be a teacher leader
- Apply an adult learning theory in your leadership context
- Facilitate effective teacher teams
- Learn principles for designing and implementing change

You will leave with:

- The latest adult learning theories to help you lead your colleagues
- Innovative tools to inspire and guide your teacher leadership
- New strategies to facilitate teacher teams effectively
- A path to earning digital credentials in teacher leadership
- An action plan to promote change in your school or district
- A virtual follow up session to support your work on your plan

I: ADULT LEARNING & LEADERSHIP

V: BUILDING A COLLABORATIVE DATA CULTURE

II: BRIDGING RESEARCH & PRACTICE

VI: BUILDING POWERFUL FAMILY & COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

III: LEADING & PROFESSIONAL LEARNING

VII: LEADING POLICY & ADVOCACY

IV: HELPING COLLEAGUES IMPROVE INSTRUCTION

NNSTOY is a trusted source for developing teacher leadership among educators of all levels. Our Teacher Leadership Professional Learning Courses are based on the industry-supported Teacher Leader Model Standards and grounded in the latest research and adult learning theory. Created by State Teachers of the Year and Finalists, our teacher leadership courses are highly engaging and collaborative, offering practical tools to improve teaching and learning.